School Board Looks At Budget; Aims Funds Toward Classroom

Shielding The Elements

After a weekend of springlike weather, it's been a bit misty, rainy and foggy this week. Elizabeth Earle and her two children, two-year-old Aiden and five-year-old Emily, raise their umbrellas against the elements during a daily stroll on Main Street.

Keeping a promise to spend as many of their budget dollars as possible in the classroom next year, the School Committee Tuesday night approved on a first pass funds for a computer coordinator, cable television/theatre arts coordinator, speech and public speaking teacher, and 2.5 elementary teachers.

Each of those new positions is "geared to the classroom" and not administration, Superintendent Kenneth Seifert told the committee, although the computer position has been budgeted under the supervisors account.

Committee members (with Susan Poore and Donald Robb absent) apparently agreed, finding no fault with the administration's recommendations as they approved 14 accounts on a first pass.

They will continue their first pass on the remaining 13 accounts in their total $14.7 million budget next week.

The new computer staffer, at an estimated salary of $35,000, will cost the school department an assistant principal at West Elementary School, the superintendent said.

That trade-off will be worthwhile, he said, because a computer coordinator is "extremely critical in the instructional area" — and without one, the schools' computer program will only "limp along."

Duties of the new staffer (who may or may not be a program advisor) will include overseeing the implementation of the educational computing program, working with staff as well as students; evaluating software; establishing a computer club in each school; and providing the staff with data processing information.

Meanwhile, West Elementary will be able to function without an assistant principal "with minimal modifications," Seifert said. "A satisfactory job can be done."

The superintendent said a cable television/theatre arts staffer was equally necessary to make the most of the town's new cable television studio and performing arts center at Andover High.

Without that position, budgeted at $17,000 under the audio visual account, Andover may end up broadcasting "football games and school committee meetings" over its cable channel, he said — and missing cable TV's educational potential.

Seifert envisions instructional television programs coordinated with homework assignments, study skills programs, student-run newscasts: programs that will teach students both behind-the-scenes production skills and on-air poise. Cable television can be "a really strong educational tool," he said, but "it isn't going to happen unless you get a person for it."

The public speaking and speech teacher will also work with cable television and the arts center, he said, helping students acquire a communications skill that will become more necessary in the years ahead.

The committee approved a total $8.9 million in the teaching account, including $8.6 million in salaries. The total of $357,815 in expenses includes $46,829 for new program development, and this week the committee was presented with several ideas for educational programs.

South School Principal Joseph Normandy, AHS Principal Mary Jennings, and program advisors James Murphy, Rita Petrella and Patricia Dye described a sampling of the program changes school administrators are working on. Their ideas, now under study, include multi-media oral and written communications studies, multi-age classrooms (grouping grades four through six) at South, peer tutoring, a new interdisciplinary high school curriculum, learning teams, enrichment programs in basic science for non-science oriented students.

Conservation Restriction Approved

Twenty acres of open land off Salem Street may be saved from development "in perpetuity," according to a unanimous vote of the selectmen Monday night.

The board voted to approve a conservation restriction for 20 acres off Salem Street. The land is owned by Leon and Paula Gronquist of 261 Salem St., who will be asked to sign the conservation agreement now that it has the selectmen's approval.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony called the site "a meaningful piece of property" because it abuts the Taft Reservation. "It's a very nice piece of property that would not develop well," he added.

Mahony recommended writing an "in perpetuity" clause into the agreement because some land-owners have been known to request a conservation restriction, then later ask to have it lifted when a developer makes an attractive offer. The manager said that kind of on-again-off-again agreement complicates Andover's open space planning.

DCS Office Moving Tuesday

The Department of Community Services will be closed Tuesday, Feb. 21, so that the offices can be moved from the Shawsheen School to the new municipal office complex on Bartlet St.

The department will reopen Wednesday, Feb. 22, in the new building and the new telphone number will be 470-3800.

Senior Center Awarded State Grant

The new Andover Senior Center has been awarded a $3,000 grant to purchase a two-door freezer and exhaust hood for the congregate meals program.

The award was part of $450,000 in discretionary grant awards to councils on aging and senior centers throughout the state by the state department of elder affairs.

Licenses, Permits Approved

The Board of Selectmen approved several licenses and permits during a regular meeting at the new municipal office building Monday night.

Temple Emanuel, 7 Haggetts Pond Road, was granted a one-day wine and malt license for 6:30 p.m. to midnight March 10; and a one-day all-alcoholic license for 7 p.m. to midnight March 31.

Gold Chain Sales, Inc. of Meriden, Conn., with Paul A. Matthews as transient vendor, was licensed for the sale of 14K gold jewelry at the Sheraton-Rolling Green from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. March 2; 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. March 3; and noon to 4 p.m. March 4.

The Knights of Vartan won permission to hold their annual 10-kilometer road race starting at 10 a.m. May 20 at West Junior High School. The course will cover Shawsheen Road to West Parish Church, Lowell Street to Lovejoy Road, Dascomb Road to Andover Street, Red Spring Road to Shawsheen Road, and back to the junior high.

And the board approved a request from Crafts-in-the-Park to hold that group's annual crafts fair in Central Park on May 12, with a rain date of May 13.

Two Attain Honors At Dartmouth

Two Andover students have attained honors at Dartmouth College during the past term.

Alexandra K. D. Chivers was cited by an art professor, while Lisa B. Johnson was cited by a German professor for outstanding academic achievement.

Chivers, a sophomore, daughter of John and Mary Chivers, received a citation for her excellent work this fall in a basic design course. A 1982 graduate of Phillips Academy where she was president of the Athletic Advisory Board and was a member of the Blue Key Society, she is a member of the Dartmouth women's ice hockey team.

Johnson, daughter of Bruce and Marsha Johnson, 27 Summer St., received a citation for her excellent work in a modern German literature seminar conducted in German. She is a 1982 graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover, where she was a member of the varisty soccer, gymnastics and track teams.

Citation winners are unusual among the 4,000 undergraduates on the Darmouth campus, as members of the faculty are invited to submit Citation Reports only when a student's work is sufficiently distinguished to merit special recognition. Such citations are rare, and relatively few are submitted each term.

Dartmouth, the ninth oldest college in the United States and the northernmost of the Ivy League institutions, has a total enrollment of 4,000 undergraduates and 800 graduate students.

To Present UF Awards At Dinner

The 13th Annual "Dutch Treat" Employee Awards Dinner, sponsored by the Merrimack Valley United Fund, has been scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 28, in the auditorim of Central Catholic High School in Lawrence at 6:30 p.m.

This dinner is held every year to honor all the volunteers who contributed their time and money, in an effort to make the United Fund campaign successful. "Fair Share Plaque Awards" will be presented to representatives from qualifying employee groups. The Fair Share formula for employee groups is 5 percent times the monthly payroll.

Local volunteers who have made outstanding contributions of time and leadership to United Fund member agencies will also be honored. This year's focus will be on the volunteers from the counseling agencies.

The 1983-84 campaign totals, including audited reports of the campaign divisions, will be announced and the new Merrimack Valley United Fund officers and campaign chairman for 1984-85 will be introduced:

Last February, a capacity crowd of more than 1,100 local people attended the "Dutch Treat" affair.

Professors Establish Scholarship

Two Merrimack College management professors have made a combined donation of $1,000 to Merrimack to establish a scholarship for student members of the college's Society for the Advancement of Management (S.A.M.).

Prof. James E. Stewart of East Rochester, N.H., and Prof. John Koziell of Hancock, N.H., presented a three-hour seminar in December on "Management Communications" to a group of financial managers at Sanders Associates, Inc. in New Hampshire. Both professors asked Sanders to present the $1,000 they were to receive for the seminar to Merrimack to establish the scholarship.

Those interested in contributing to the scholarship should contact the college's development office.

The Andover Department of Community Services and the Regional Health Center in Wilmington are co-sponsoring a Stop Smoking program beginning Monday, Feb. 27, at the high school from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m for four weeks. A follow-up meeting will be scheduled two weeks after the completion of the program.

This program offers a supportive environment and learning experience to enable participants to stop smoking. Homework is required every day during the 20-day period, in the form of reading and written exercises.

Participants will attend an orientation session, three sessions during the 20-day plan and a follow-up meeting. They will receive two American Lung Association booklets: "Freedom From Smoking in 20 Days" and "A Lifetime of Freedom from Smoking.

Registration is at the DCS office in Shawsheen School. The Community Services will be housed in the new Town Hall on Bartlet Street the week of February 21.

Rep. Tucker Is Honored

Andover State Rep. Sue Tucker recieves citation from Kelly McClintock, executive director of Environmental Lobby of Massachusetts.

Representatives Michael J. Barrett of Reading and Susan C. Tucker of Andver have been honored by the Environmental Lobby of Massachusetts. ELM Executive Director Kelly McClintock presented both representatives with the organization's 1983 Environmental Achievement Award.

According to McClintock, Representatives Barrett and Tucker made an invaluable contribution to the furtherance of environmental issues by initiating and organizing the House Environmental Caucus. "Environental legislation has been difficult to pass in the House due, in part, to the size and diversity of the House membership and to the complexity and diversity of environmental issues," said McClintock. "The Environmental Caucus was developed to combat these problems and ELM looks forward to working with the caucus on issues of important environmental concern."

In presenting the award, McClintock cited the goals of the Environmental Caucus wich include increasing the environmental awareness and effectiveness of House members through the establishment of an ongoing forum for communication, education and action. McClintock also thanked the more than 60 members of the caucus who will evaluate proposed policies, examine ongoing programs, debate budget issues and advocate new legislative approaches. "The establishment of the Environmental Caucus is an extremely important initiative that will broaden the base of environmental knowledge and awareness in the Massachusetts House," continued McClintock. "For their work on the development of the caucus and for their continued efforts on behalf of environmental legislation, ELM is pleased to honor both Representative Barrett and Representative Tucker."

Skiing Along The A.V.I.S. Trails

By Lyn Beattie

Deer Jump Reservation is the result of one of the most ambitious and rewarding of a series of land acquisitions by AVIS starting in 1960. It now comprises 129 acres of land which borders the Merrimack River for two and a half miles.

The name Deer Jump presumably was taken from Deer Jump Falls, natural falls occurring in that area of the river prior to construction of the Lawrence dam. This area contains most native species of trees as well as a large variety of wild flowers and ferns.

There are several accesses to the reservation. In winter the easiest is from Launching Road (off River Road). The trail enters through a break in a stone wall between 15 and 19 Launching Road. Bear left and soon one comes to the main trail which follows the river's edge east and west. There is excellent cross-country skiing and snowshoeing along the woodland trail which is quite flat and straight. It can be skiied almost to the Tewksbury line to the west. By continuing past the Fish Brook pumping station to the east, it leads over conservation land close to the Lawrence line. Altogether the trail runs most of the length of Andover or about four miles.

AVIS maps of Andover, as well as trail map handouts, are available from Memorial Hall Library and Moor and Mountain. For further information, write P.O. Box 90, Andover, MA 01810.

Weather Can Delay Recycling Pickups

Althogh the recent days of much warmer weather are turning our thoughts to spring, there may be a few more recycling weeks ahead during which snowfalls delay both trash and recycling pickups as they did on and immediately after January 31.

Service may be slower, but the pickups will eventually be made. Please leave items, trash separated from recyclables where they are usually put. Do not place recyclables in plastic bags or cover them as they then appear to be trash and the recycling driver will not stop for them.

dents in the fields of marketing, management, merchandising and retailing.

There are currently eight different areas of competition in the competency-based series events: Advertising and Display; Apparel and Accessories (Supervisory and Master Employee levels); Finance and Credit (Master Employee); Food Marketing (Supervisory and Master Employee levels); General Retail Merchandising (Supervisory and Master Employee); General Marketing (Supervisory and Master Employee levels); Restaurant Marketing (Supervisory and Master Employee levels); Service Station Retailing (Supervisor and Master Employee levels).

Each DECA member has previously chosen one area to compete in. The competition consists of two events, one written and one oral. The written event will determine knowledge in their selected area and the oral activities will consist of hypothetical business questions presented by a judge. Local business people serve as judges and lend their professional expertise on these situatiors.

Congressman James Shannon launched an art competition for high school students in the Fifth Congressional District. The winning entry will be displayed this summer, along with artworks from districts across the country, in a corridor of the U.S. Capital, an area dedicated to the artistic skills of today's young artists.

The contest is part of "An Artistic Discovery," the third annual competition implemented by members of the U.S. House of Representatives to recognize the creative talents of young Americans. Between now and May 31, members will conduct local competitions for high school students to elect artwork to be displayed in the national exhibition

The competition, to be conducted at no expense to the federal government, is open to any high school student in the Fifth District. Artwork must be two-dimensional and no larger than the unframed size, 30x30. Eligible categories are paintings, drawings, collages and prints.

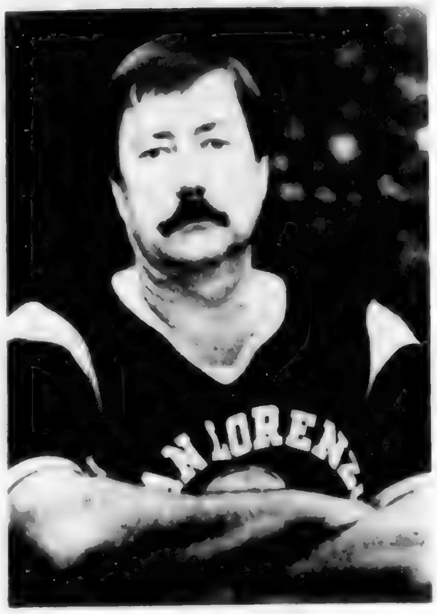
Library Friends Present Author



Robert B. Parker

The Friends of Memorial Hall Library will present Robert B. Parker, author of the Spencer detective stories, on Sunday, March 25, in the West Elementary School Auditorium at 3 p.m. This will be an opportunity for Spencer fans to hear the author talk about his creation.

Before writing the Spencer novels, Parker was a technical writer at Raytheon and a copywriter at Prudential. He returned to Boston University, earned a Ph.D. in English and pursued his interests in teaching and writing fiction. He introduced his tough talking Boston detective, Spencer, in 1974 and the sale of these books proved so successful that it enabled Parker to give up teaching at Northeastern U. and devote himself fulltime to writing. His latest book, "Love and Glory," is not a detective story.

There is another Spencer book in the works titled "A Catskill Eagle," involving a search for Susan, Spencer's girlfriend and a flight across the country by Spencer and his friend, Hawk. After about 400 pages, everything will be resolved happily. Concerning Spencer's macho image, Parker says, "The misunderstanding is that it requires beating up on other people. To me the word means belief in honor. It can be obtained in some cases by not punching someone."

Some of the Spencer stories are in the process of filming for movie release. "Looking for Rachel Wallace" and "Early Autumn" are in production now with Columbia Pictures. Another Parker book, "Wilderness," a non-Spencer book, is scheduled for filming next year with Richard Dreyfuss.

Tickets may be purchased at Memorial Hall Library, The Andover Book Store, Thompson's and from V. David Rodger, Bookseller, Park Alley No. 68.

Country Gazette

Country Music At Collins Center

Country music and dance will brighten the Collins Center tomorrow and Saturday as The Country Gazette, direct from Oklahoma, along with Banjo Dan and the Mid-Nite Plowboys from Vermont, will bring bluegrass sounds for the first time to the center.

This special evening of country music will be preceded by two special free workshops. The first workshop at 11 a.m. will be geared to those interested in obtaining general information on bluegrass music, including the historical origins of bluegrass, the interpretation in different parts of the country and famous bluegrass artists.

The second workshop at 12:30 p.m. will be geared to the serious guitar student who wished to better understand how to play bluegrass music. A guitar is required.

Call the Collins Center to pre-register for these workshops.

On Saturday, the Alvin Ailey Repertory Ensemble will perform a dance program at the center, sponsored in cooperation with Phillips Academy in celebration of Black American Art.

The demand for tickets for this program has been overwheming, resulting in a sell-out of all seats. A waiting list is being formed.

The Broadway touring company of "Joseph and His Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" will appear in March at the Collins Center.

All tickets are available at the Collins Center Box Office, open daily from 10 a.m to 4 p.m, Andover Savings Bank, Main Street, and "Just For You," 36 Main St., Andover. For more information, call the Collins Center.

Olympic TV Crews Are Checked By Andover Equipment

The strain of participating in the Olympic Games is well-documented, strain not just on athletes, but on television crews who must face their own challenges in bringing the games to millions of viewers. In past games, a number of medical problems, including heart attacks, have befallen harried television crews.

The ABC television network is taking no chances at the Olympic Games in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia. The network has established an innovative, remote-diagnostic clinic that will be available to monitor the hearts of more than 1,000 television crew members and guests from thousands of miles away.

By usng an electrocardiograph and a modem supplied by Hewlett-Packard Company's Andover Division, ABC representative Dr. Eugene Drago, a cardiologist, can transmit EKG records to a New York hosital for analysis and receive results less than two minutes later.

Drago's clinic is similar to the one he established at the 1980 Lake Placid games where he performed nearly 260 EKG tests and saw two heart attacks. Having the HP equipment on hand made it possible for both attacks to be diagnosed in the early stages and for both victims to receive prompt medical care.

The Olympic Games present a lot of stress for the people working behind the scenes," Drago says. "ABC was pleased with the results at Lake Placid and this also should be worth the effort."

Especially since it means Drago, using the HP equipment, can access medical technology located in the United States at a fraction of the cost of bringing the equipment to Sarajevo.

With the HP equipment, the EKG scannings are sent via a satellite to ABC studios in New York where they are connected by a direct phone link with Drago's homebase hospital in Schenectady, N.Y. There, the data is analyzed and the interpretations sent back to Drago for personal review. Drago went to ABC with the proposal to use the HP equipment after a tour of Sarajevo last June.

Hewlett-Packard Company has been an equipment supplier to the Olympic Games since 1972. At the upcoming summer games in Los Angeles, HP analytical equipment will be used to test athletes for steroid and illegal substance abuse.

The Andover Division of Hewlett-Packard employs 700 people and has been in operation since 1977. The division also designs and manufactures ultrasound imaging systems.

To Improve Telephone Facilities

New England Telephone is expanding and improving local telephone facilities in West Andover.

Public Relations Manager Cynthia Austin said, "The new facilities will provide additional cable capacity and improved service to meet the present and future calling needs of West Andover telephone customers served by the Lawrence exchange."

Nearly two miles of aerial cable and three Subscriber Loop Carrier Systems (SLCS) will be installed along River Road.

The SLCS will be placed in a "Mini-Hut' cabinet and will use digital transmission to provide low-noise telephone communications. They also will allow for future expansion using existing cables.

"Another advantage of having digital transmission is that it provides a good medium for special service lines such as the ones used to transfer data between computers," Austin aid.

When the work—already underway—is completed early next year, the new facilities will provide state-of-the-art service for residential and business customers in the rapidly growing West Andover area.

This is one of many such projects New England Telephone is undertaking this year as part of its multi-million dollar program to expand and improve telephone service in Massachusetts.

Phone Company Begins Construction

New England Telephone has begun construction of a new $10 million corporate data center on Shattuck Road in West Andover Technical Park

Construction of the new two-story, 70,000 square foot building is underway and completion is anticipated by the end of the year when about 40 NET employees will move in.

Additional employees will continue to move into the building in 1985 and 1986. Plans allow for future expansion of the building

Edward F. McCauley, NET assistant vice president-ISDO operations, said the decision to locate the center in the Andover Technical Park was based in part on the centralized location it would provide. McCauley also said he expects some employees and machinery to start moving into the new building by the end of November

The new brick-faced center will be located on about six acres in the industrial park

The architect engineering firm for the project is Ganteaume and McMullen Inc. of Boston

Aid Group Offers Scholarship

Applications for the $1,000 college scholarship given by the Lawrence General Hospital's Aid Association are due April 30. The scholarship will go to a 1984 graduate of an area high school who has contributed at least 200 hours of volunteer service to the hospital. The winner will be announced in early June.

Applicants don't have to be current volunteers. In addition to service to the hospital, the selection is based on each student's scholastic record, SAT scores and a personal interview.

Application forms are available from Mary O'Brien, director of volunteer services, at Lawrence General. O'Brien lives in Salem, N.H. Applicants must also submit a copy of their high school transcripts and SAT scores.

"The scholarship is a way the Aid Association can recognize the student's service to the hospital and its patients," said Eliza Webster of Andover, president of the Aid Association. "We also recognize financial assistance is becoming more difficult for students to get at the same time college costs are increasing."

Junior volunteers are between 14 and 18 years old. They will be assigned to specific responsibilities such as bed-making, delivering flowers, assisting the nursing staff and helping at the coffee counter in the hospital's Hospitality Shop.

Open House

Open House will be held at the Somerville Hospital School of Nursing, 125 Lowell St., Somerville, on Wednesday, March 7, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Faculty and nursing students will be available to provide information about the school and conduct tours of the educational facilities and hospital.

Full-time and part-time day programs are offered. An evening program will be offered in September.

The School of Nursing is a National League for Nursing accredited program leading to a diploma in nursing. Graduates are eligible to write the State Board Examination for licensure as a registered nurse.

Learning about Lawrence General Hospital's (LGH) new telemetry equipment for monitoring cardiac patients are, from left, Thomas F. Hennessey of North Andover, LGH president and chief executive officer, and LGH Aid Association board members Dawn Markle and Trish Quinlan, both of Andover. The Aid Association raised the $90,000 to purchase the monitors.

Telemetry Monitoring Assists Patients

An eight-bed telemetry monitoring area for persons recovering from heart attacks or with potential heart problems has opened at Lawrence General Hospital (LGH). Patients on these small devices do not have to be confined to bed, hooked up with tubes and wire, yet their heart rate is constantly monitored on video screens and a permanent print-out at the nurses station.

The monitoring system was a $90,000 gift of the hospital's Aid Association with part of the money it raised during 1983.

Patients benefiting from the telemetry area include persons transferred from the coronary care and intensive cȧre units, post operative patients with a history of heart problems, cardiac patients who are having their medications adjusted and persons with chest pain who may be having early stages of heart problems

Under the direction of the physician the patients are encouraged to walk and do other daily activities while the nurses observe the monitor for any changes. This assists the doctor in adjusting medication or restricting activity as needed explained Mary Perry, RN, of Salem, head nurse

'Obviously the patients also prefer not to be hooked up to machines and confined to bed. Many of them feel quite well and being able to move around the nursing unit as they please keeps their spirits up," Perry continued

Not only is the heart's pattern constantly monitored on the video screen, but if there is a deviation in the pattern, an audible safety alarm sounds at the nurses' station. Every registered nurse on the unit has taken intensive training and is able to read and interpret the pattern. Other staff members are also trained in how to respond to the alarm

Sections of the paper printout are kept in the patient's medical record for reference. Communication between nurse and physician is frequent when changes in pattern occur

The nursing staff is trained to teach cardiac patients how to live with their illness

Heart Is Topic For Issues

According to William P. Castelli, M.D., Medical Director of the Framingham Heart Study (a nationally-renowned institute for research on risk factors associated with heart disease), every fifth man and every seventeenth woman will have heart attack by age 60. But, individuals can prevent the onset of a heart attack by identifying their 'risk factors' and learning how to control them.

During Bon Secours Hospital's Febrnary Healthy Issues program "Treat Your Heart to Health," Dr. Castelli will speak about preventing heart attacks and help participants recognize the need to take charge of their health. A national author and lecturer, Dr. Castelli will also discuss the causes, symptoms, and treatments of heart disease.

Scheduled to be held Wednesday, February 15, 1984 at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium, "Treat Your Heart to Health" is offered free of charge as a public service of Bon Secours Hospital. For more information regarding this program, contact the Hospital's Community Relations Department.

Jack H. Thornton

Christian Science Lecture

It's "never too late to turn to the outstretched arms of God, no matter what we may have done, or left undone, in our lives. For, as the Bible states, God alone gives meaning and purpose to life."

Visiting lecturer Jack H. Thornton makes it clear, however, that the God he refers to is not distant or uncaring, but a "loving presence and power" unconditionally at hand for all "whether or not we feel deserving." In fact, the speaker points out that throughout the Bible God is characterized as Love itself. And, it is this sense of being loved by God which he claims enables individuals to love themselves and others more practically

Thornton, in his lecture, "Divine Love: The Meaning of Life," gives examples of threatening situations that were changed as people facing unfair accusations and financial problems turned wholeheartedly to the power of God

For many years Thornton was associated with "The Christian Science Monitor" as manager of circulation sales before entering the ministry of Christian healing as a Christian Science Lecturship. He is author of a children's book, "Travis Talks with God," and worked with children locally as a Sunday School superintendent as well as in several other branch church capacities.

The Thornton talk, sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Andover, will be given on Saturday, Feb. 18, in Sargent Auditorium of the Lawrence Public Library at 3 p.m.

The lecture is free and open to the public.

To Observe Guild Sunday

Guild Sunday will be observed during this Sunday's Service of the Word at Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church, United Church of Christ). Grace Nicoll, a member of the guild, will be the lay reader. The Rev. Gary Cornell will preach on "Love Your Enemies."

This year's theme is "Celebrate the Winter Woodlands." There will be 27 campers from United Methodist churches of the Southern New England Conference. Local children attending are Lisa Campbell, Jodie Jangro and Chris Lowe. Andrew and Elizabeth Cornell will serve as staff persons from the Ballardvale church.

Minister At Yale Speaker

Samuel Slie, chaplain of Southern Connecticut College and associate pastor of the Church of Christ in Yale for the past 30 years, will speak in Cochran Chapel at Phillips Academy this Sunday, Feb. 19, at 11 a.m. The service, including special music, will culminate Black American Arts Weekend at Phillips Academy

While Medicaid pays all of a person's health care bills, Medicare pays only a portion of them. Thus, the need for private health insurance to supplement Medicare

Zoning Board Rules Day Care Facilities Are Permissable

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Zoning Board of Appeals last week issued a decision many For which Andover parents had been hoping. Reversing a ruling of the building inspector, the ZBA found that Floyd and Arline Lambright of Wabanaki Way may continue to offer family day care in their home.

According to the ZBA's written decision, issued last Wednesday, the Lambrights' family day care service for up to six children at one time is a "customary home occupation," allowed in single residence districts under Section IV.B.38 of Andover's zoning laws.

With the zoning board's positive decision, 17 state-licensed family day care providers may continue to care for children in residential neighborhoods around Andover. Town officials hope the ruling will also inspire what they suspect are many unlicensed providers in town to now seek state licenses.

The board reached its decision after a crowded Jan. 5 public hearing on the Lambright's petition as a party aggrieved by a decision of the building inspector, who enforces the town's zoning laws.

Last November, Building Inspector Salvatore DeSalvo had ruled that the Lambright's day care service was a business — and could not be allowed in a residential zone. Their home is located in a Single Residence B district.

Lawrence Attorney John Wessler, representing the Lambrights before the board, argued that family day care, as licensed by the state, is a customary home occupation — like a doctor's, dentist's, or lawyer's practice — allowed in residential zones under the zoning bylaw

Nearly 100 townspeople also appeared before the ZBA last month. Many spoke in favor of family home day care, protesting that a negative board decision could hurt their families by making day care harder to find in Andover. None spoke against it. In addition, more than 400 residents signed a petition urging the board to define family day care as a home occupation.

The Lambrights — and the concept of family home day care — also won the support of town officials, including the selectmen and Planning Board. The ZBA indicated that they considered the strong show of support for home family day care in reaching their favorable decision.

The board found that the Wabanaki Way family day care home met five requirements of Section IV.B.38 in the zoning law there is no sale of articles not produced on the premises; no exterior storage or display; no alteration of the residential character of the premises; no noise, heat, vibration or "other objectionable effects" discernible at the property line; and no employment of more than one person who is not a member of the resident family.

Only children playing outside during part of the day, and cars dropping off and picking up children approximately 14 times each day, would create any sort of noise at the family day care home, the board wrote.

They found this acceptable under the terms of the bylaw, noting that a doctor or lawyer's residential practice "clearly has the potential for generating as much if not more traffic from clients or patients arriving and departing by automobiles as is involved with the family day care center"

In finding that family home day care is a customary home occupation in Andover today, the board defined customary as "not unique or rare." According to testimony during the hearing, there are now 17 family day care homes licensed by the state in this town — and probably many more day care homes that are unlicensed and remain uncounted

The ZBA concluded that day care homes, licensed or unlicensed, are "not a rarity in Andover. They are not unique in Andover and are sufficient in number to constitute a recognized activity in Andover."

The board added that it "cannot condone" family day care centers not licensed by the state Office for Children. The state licenses family day care of no more than six children at any one time, including the provider's children

Building Inspector DeSalvo declared the Lambrights' day care operation a business, and thus illegal in a residential neighborhood, after some neighbors complained about the day care home. Several of those neighbors later withdrew their names from the complaint

The 20-day appeal period for the ZBA decision expires Tuesday, Feb. 28

Condo Plans Get Favorable Comments From Selectmen

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Two proposed condominium developments won a few favorable — although noncommittal — comments from the selectmen Monday night, after informal presentations at the new town offices on Bartlet Street.

Later this month, both plans will be discussed in public hearings before the Planning Board.

James Barenboim of Andover, and Robert Flannery and Robert Flannery, Jr. of Andover appeared before the selectmen Monday night to describe their two separate condominium plans. Both plans will come before annual town meeting in April for zone changes.

The selectmen took no action on the plans this week, but later may vote to recommend approval or disapproval to town meeting.

Barenboim hopes to build 29 "luxury" townhouse units on a 12.5-acre site off Poor Street in Shawsheen Village, in a development tentatively titled "60 Poor Street." His site, opposite Windsor Street, overlooks Hussey's Pond. The mostly two-story, two-bedroom units would sell for about $200.000.

Barenboim's site is now zoned Single Residence A; he is seeking a change to apartment zoning, extending an existing apartment zone that includes the Aberdeen condominiums. The site is served by town water and sewer.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade told the selectmen the population density and clustered design of the condo complex would create an increased demand for fire protection, "in excess of what we can produce." That would effect the town's fire insurance rating, he indicated.

The Flannerys would like to build 231 two and one-half story units on a 33-acre site off North Street, with the complex to be called "Glenwood at Andover." The two-bedroom units would sell for an "affordable" $80,000 to $100.000 to attract first-time home-buyers and senior citizens, they said.

An access roadway would lead into the site from North Street, and existing fields on North Street would be left undeveloped, they said, so that no part of the development would be visible from either North Street or River Road.

Their site, located near the West Andover industrial park, is zoned Single Residence C. like Barenboim, the Flannerys are seeking a change to apartment zoning. Their site is also served by town water and sewer.

One major concern of the planning board: the amount of traffic that could be generated by the condos in the already-busy (and soon-to-be-busier) River Road industrial area. The developers told the selectmen they plan to have a traffic study completed by Vanasse/Hangen Associates of Boston before their public hearing.

McQuade noted that his fire protection doubts applied to the Flannery's proposal as well as Barenboim's.

Both developers said neighbors of their two sites have voiced no objections to their condo plans.

The selectmen did not discuss the proposals, but some board members hinted at their first impressions of the two plans. Selectman William Dalton called the Shawsheen plan "a very attractive proposal", while Donn Byrne termed the North Street proposal "a nice-looking project."

And Chairman Gerald Silverman indicated that it was an advantage that neighbors of the North Street plan would be sheltered from the condos by trees and open space. (The Shawsheen plan is also designed to be invisible to neighbors on Poor and William streets.)

The planning board has not taken a position on either proposal, but will vote on the two plans some time after public hearings scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 28, at the new municipal office center.

In preliminary discussions during the past month, the planners have indicated that they are concerned about the density of the North Street proposal (7.5 units per acre) and — perhaps to a lesser extent – about the $200,000 pricetag proposed for the Shawsheen Village condos.

Theodore R. Sizer

Sizer, was dean of Harvard Graduate School of Education prior to accepting the headmaster's position at Phillips. He served as headmaster there from 1972 through 1981.

After leaving the academy, Sizer conducted a two-year-study of American high schools, with the findings to be released soon.

He had served as a visiting professor at Brown during the period while conducting the study and preparing the book, "Horace's Compromise: The Dilemma of the American High School."

The announcement of his appointment was made Satuerday by Howard R. Swearer, president of Brown.

Elm St. Funeral Home Proposed

John D. Caron of the Caron Funeral Home in North Andover hopes to open a new funeral home in Andover, at 42-44 Elm St. — less than 300 feet from the Lundgren Funeral Home, which will close its doors this year.

Caron, who will be represented by Atty. Charles F. Dalton of Andover, will ask annual town meeting to rezone the Elm Street property, currently owned by Dennis Doherty, from a single residence zone to business zoning. The site is surrounded mostly by multi-family houses.

The funeral director will also appear before the Planning Board in the near future to seek that board's approval of the proposed zone change.

The director says he decided to open an Andover business when Donald Lundgren of Lundgren's Funeral Home announced his plans to retire and close his business this year. Lundgren's 18 Elm St. building may be converted into a French restaurant by the new owner.

Caron plans to provide private parking for more than 40 cars, along with a double circular drive around the building to improve traffic safety in the congested Elm Street area. He says the parking area will be available to neighbors and members of the nearby Free Church when it is not in use by the funeral home.

Andover Atty. Charles F. Dalton will represent Caron before the planning board and town meeting.

Maria Enchants 2,000 Smiling Faces

Children were glowing as Maria of Sesame Street performed at the Collins Center last weekend. Her 1 and 4 p.m. Valentine Special shows included singing, dancing and storytelling that even kept the parents entertained. Maria's shows featured the American Children's Theatre National Touring Company, providing a foot tapping performance that ended the shows. Photos clockwise from upper left: Maria greets four-year-old Kimbly Igoe as she makes her way to the stage; Maria jokes with David Gambrios on stage. Funding A Dire Need

It is not a pleasant prospect for a municipality to face funding a multi-million dollar project on its own, what with the multitude of federal and state programs available to assist.

But the Riverina Road sewage pumping station replacement, despite consistent efforts to obtain funding, seems to be a project which Andover will have to tackle on its own, still hopeful of success in state and federal allotments.

The station had another breakdown over a week ago which necessitated the closing of businesses in the Shawsheen area for a period of time, and polluting, however briefly, the Shawsheen River.

It is a project which has been anticipated by public works officials for a number of years, is a part of the town's master plan and is a much needed facility to meet the town's growth requirements.

Supt. of Public Works Robert E. McQuade told selectmen last week that replacement of the pumping station is the town's 'most dire need.'

He urged and the selectmen agreed, that an article should be placed in the annual town meeting warrant for the town to undertake the project, because the community can no longer await federal and state funding decisions.

Basicly the town will be given options of either undertaking a portion of the replacement or the entire project at a cost of several million dollars.

There is little doubt that while the town has been attempting to secure financial assistance from other sources, construction costs have risen sharply. Such a factor may even have a bearing on whether or not other sources would be willing to participate in such a project.

But, what is not in doubt, is the fact that the age and condition of the pumping station is now at a point where the community's reliance on the facility is waning.

Not too long ago a flash flooding condition along the Shawsheen had town crews, joined by state and civil defense authorities, at the Riverina Road station for an entire weekend working throughout the period to protect the station.

The same situation, although not quite as serious, arose a year ago.

As the Shawsheen begins to make its annual spring rise, the town can again anticipate problems there.

The pumps which operate the station are old, worn and replacement is costly.

Necessary repairs to one pump will leave the town without a backup system should further emergencies arise.

With these facts considered, it just seems logical to look the problem squarely and face the reality that the expenditure of funds is a necessity.

The consideration that the town's economy is affected by the closing of businesses when the station has failures is a minor consideration when it is realized that a breakdown at the station would have a serious effect on the town's health, sanitation and safety.

It is, therefore, recommended that town officials continue to puruse the grants which might be available, but go forward with presenting to town meeting the pertinent facts to substantiate the funding of the station by the town itself.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — February 1909

The treasurer of the Tuberculosis Committee, Mr. Stackpole, reports a hearty response to the request for funds for the work of the District Nurse during the current year. Two hundred and forty two dollars has already been received toward the required four hundred dollars, mostly in amounts of five and ten dollars.

At the South church, on Friday afternoon, Miss Caroline D. Aborn, director of Boston's one hundred and ten public kindergartens, will speak on "What the Kindergarten Stands for." Everyone is invited, but an especial invitation is extended through the Townsman to the members of the Mothers clubs of Andover and Ballardvale, and to all mothers of children of kindergarten age.

One of the largest loads of hay that ever came into Ballardvale arrived Friday forenoon. The sled broke down and the load slid off on the ground near the Congregational Church. The hay belonged to Nuckley Brothers and considerable delay was experienced before it was reloaded and brought to its destination

Complaints of all kinds were aired last night at the town hall against the service and rates of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway of this town. The meeting was called as the result of a meeting held in Lawrence a few weeks ago at the instigation of Representative Thomas J. Lane who is leading a fight for a five-cent fare. One complainant stated that the fare from Andover to Lawrence, ten cents, was too high, and he suggested tickets giving 14 rides to Andover square for a dollar.

Madame Olga Averino, soprano who has been a sensation in New York, will sing in the Meeting Room at Phillips academy tonight at 8.15 o'clock. The recital is public, and admission will be 50 cents. Olga Averino was born in Moscow, the daughter of a widely known violinist, the granddaughter of Hermann Laroche, eminent critic and writer, and the god-daughter of Modest Tschaikovsky.

It will cost $37,067.92 to pay town employees their requested eight percent raise for the rest of this year, and add about 50 cents to the tax rate. These estimates were provided Saturday morning at a hearing on the pay raise article in the warrant, conducted by the Personnel Board

There were no objections voiced at a public hearing Monday night on the heretofore controversial article establishing garden apartment rules and regulations and a zone for the apartments. Chairman Donald Thompson told the audience that the Planning Board had to assume that those present favored the zoning proposals heard at the session, unless there was specific objection. There was none on the apartment articles, and little on any of the other proposals explained by the Planning Board

Route 110 — federal interstate Route 495 — became more of a reality last week, as the last segment of the road was put under construction at the Westford-Chelmsford line. Plans are being drawn now for the section in Andover, it is understood, with the expectation that construction may get underway sometime in 1959. A hearing on the Methuen-Haverhill portion of the highway was held last week in Haverhill.

10 Years Ago — February 1974

More than 40 pupils registered to vote, symbolically enough on Lincoln's Birthday, at Andover High School. Town Clerk Elden E. Salter set up a registration desk in the lobby, and for the first time in the town's history, pupils were able to register at school. Salter, who was pleased with the turnout, said he would plan to do it again in the fall, prior to state and federal elections

Resident pet at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn on Lowell Street is a rabbit, who has been enjoying the premises and its guests to such an extent that it is feared he can't hop to his nearby woodland habitat because he's too fat. His presence at the motel and the entertaining of guests is fine with Harry Axelroad, motel owner, with one provision. Any effort to satisfy his cravings by eating Harry's flowers will lead to immediate dismissal one way or another.

If one deals in financial wizardry, Andover's tax rate for the year could be $54.30, an increase of 30 cents after town meeting, or it could be $53.50, for the twelve-month period January to December.

The Public Forum

Disappointed

To The Editor of The TOWNSMAN:

As a parent and taxpayer, I was very disappointed in the way the last School Committee meeting was handled. To those present, it was quite apparent that the decision to reopen the Shawsheen School as an Early Childhood Center had been made long before February 7, 1984. The fact that Mr. Robb voted in its favor in absentia only further proves my point. It is not clear why the members of the School Committee publicized their agenda, as the majority of concerned townspeople who spoke were blatantly ignored. Is this Andover's democratic process at its finest?

Not many would argue against the concept of an Early Childhood Center. It is a good one. What we do question is whether it is doing the greatest good for the greatest number of children. How is this helping our students and teachers in the upper grades at the West and South schools where instructional ratios are at, and over the established maximums? Teachers are already hard pressed to cope with the individual learning styles of their students. Contrary to beliefs of many on the School Committee, the population is not declining in the West and South districts of Andover. As stated by several in attendance, childless couples do not normally move into new four bedroom homes.

I applaud Mrs. Susan Poore for her singular stand and foresight on this issue. She, alone, had the wisdom and courage to say that an Early Childhood Center is not an adequate solution no matter how "innovative and exciting" it may be.

We have admitted that closing the Shawsheen School was a costly mistake. It appears the School Committee is about to make another one.

Kirstin W. Clarke

Concerned

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I am a registered voter in Andover, MA. My deaf daughter attends Model Secondary School for the Deaf and will be a senior next year. I am concerned that all the wonderful plans she has of going on to Gallaudet College will be seriously jeopardized by the proposed government cuts in funding of programs at MSSD and Kendall Elementary School for the Deaf.

If the parents and/or school districts are charged the tuition of approximately $16,000 a year, it would in effect create an impossible burden and would result in the discontinuance of this vital educational opportunity these schools offer deaf students.

I know you can understand the unsettling consequences of this on the presnt 600 students now attending these schools. Consider the impact it would have on all future deaf citizens. Since Kendall and MSSD are research oriented and experimental in their approach to deaf education, they are uniquely involved in teaching disciplines to programs for the deaf throughout the country. Until very recently books for the deaf were never available and testing was geared only to the averages of hearing children. Consequently, deaf youth were woefully unprepared and their unpreparedness led to dependency and constant indignities due to their educational inadequacies. Fortunately, this has changed due largely to programs like the ones at MSSD and Kendall School. I urge you to support "progress" as not only would the cost of welfare far exceed the cost of education, but the cost in human misery for millions of deaf Americans would be unconscionable in this country of equal opportunity for all.

JACK ANDERSON AND JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Saudi Arabia drumming up support for Jesse Jackson

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — One of the most articulate, stimulating and controversial of the presidential candidates running in 1984 is the Rev. Jesse Jackson.

At first, Jackson couldn't even count on the black vote, but now the polls show that blacks are rallying behind him. He has also made gains with women voters. But he has another group of supporters he doesn't often mention.

Jackson is the favorite candidate of the Arabs. This could hurt him with Jewish voters, so he is playing it down. He has admitted that the Arab League donated more than $100,000 to his non-profit organization, "Push for Excellence," and that a Libyan diplomat once purchased $10,000 worth of tickets to a fund-raising concert. But Jackson insists his group is an educational organization that has nothing to do with his political campaign.

But we have learned about some Arab support that has a lot to do with politics. A recent editorial in a quasi-official Saudi Arabian newspaper called Al-Jazirah declared bluntly that "Jackson must be supported." The reason he must be supported, the editorial stated, is "to give assurance to those who sympathize with Arabs."

The publication warned that United States law prohibits foreign financial support, but it told how to get around the law. It urged: "Help American-Arab organizations and persuade them to give the maximum contributions to Jackson."

The editorial also suggested that Arabs "persuade companies operating in the Arab countries to make maximum contributions" to Jackson. There was also this recommendation: "Persuade financiers such as bankers to give the necessary financial loans to candidate Jackson."

MELCHER'S MISSION: A few months ago, Sen. John Melcher, D-Mont., made a trip to the Philippines. He visited the appalling slums of Manila and saw children starving because their parents were out of work.

Melcher met with the leading Filipino Catholic leader, Cardinal Jaime Sin. The cardinal made an urgent appeal for help to feed his hungry flock. Specifically, he told Melcher that 30,000 tons of American rice would ward off starvation for 100,000 needy Filipino families. Cardinal Sin wrote a letter to President Reagan and gave it to Melcher to deliver.

There is plenty of rice in American granaries, and the cost of 30,000 tons would be about $10 million — a piddling amount to spend to keep 100,000 families from starving.

But Melcher cannot seem to get the president's attention. He called the White House and asked for an appointment with the president to deliver Cardinal Sin's letter. The senator was told the president was too busy to see him.

Melcher did get in to see the president's national security adviser, Robert McFarlane. The senator told McFarlane about the Philippines' desperate need for the rice, and McFarlane said he would take care of it.

But nothing has been done. The White House just doesn't seem to be interested. Neither does the State Department or the Agency for International Development.

Melcher still has the letter he promised to deliver personally to the president. But Melcher is a Democrat; this is an election year, and the White House suspects the Democrats will be trying to make hunger an issue in the campaign. Anything that would publicize the Democrats' concern for hungry children is apparently barred from the White House this year.

Meanwhile, hundreds of thousands of children in the Philippines are going to bed every night with empty stomachs while the rice that could ease their pangs sits in warehouses.

GRANDPARENTS HAVE RIGHTS, TOO: There have been studies and commissions concerned with the most obvious victims of divorce — the husband and wife involved and their children. But the grandparents in these broken homes have been largely forgotten.

It's a very real problem. Many times, an embittered spouse will prevent the former in-laws from seeing their grandchildren. This is especially true when the parent who has custody of the children remarries.

But grandparents have become an influential lobbying group in recent years and Congress is listening to their complaints. This week, the Senate will take action on a resolution asking the 50 states to adopt uniform laws that recognize the right of grandparents to see their grandchildren. The bill has already passed the House.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI: A computer game called "Nomination" has been rushed to market in time for the primary season. Players can compete either as Democrats or Republicans against the records of four real candidates in each party. The game, however, is not quite true to life. Only half of the current Democratic field is represented, and the three Republicans running against President Reagan are given an even chance for the GOP nomination.

— Each weekend, the president delivers a radio address, and each weekend a selected Democrat makes an immediate response. This causes some obvious preparation problems. When his turn came, Sen. Jeff Bingaman, D-N.M., chose to talk about foreign policy issues, and he got lucky: Reagan's theme that week was foreign policy.

Certainly the selection of a toilet fixture is an important part of any bathroom remodeling or construction. Most toilets are free-standing, but wall hung models have been on the market for some time. They are somewhgt more expensive but make it easier to clean around the fixture. Toilets are classed according to their action as wash down, reverse trap, siphon jet or siphon vortex. The washdown is the least expensive and the noisiest. The trapway is at the front of the bowl. The reverse trap and siphon jet have the trapway at the rear of the bowl. The best and most expensive fixture is the siphon vortex, an improvement on the siphon jet.

Whatever your choice in bathroom fixtures are always consult with a reputable plumbing contractor before you purchase any plumbing materials. The Andover Boys' Track Team defeated Methuen and captured the Merrimack Valley Conference title, while Andover's Dolyne Dovino set a school record in the mile for the girls. Bantams Elect Tri-Captains

Glenn Allard, Steve Donovan and Chris Sapuppo were elected captains by their teammates recently. This is the final year of Bantam play for these players and to be elected by such talented and gregarious teammates is quite an honor.

The Bantams have a 5-0-1 record in February to date. They have outscored their opponents 31-12 during this stretch. Their goals for (31) matches their 31 games in the win column at this time.

Andover 3 - Winthrop 3

The Bantams played their first tie game of the season against a strong Winthrop squad. Andover scorers were Peter Trede, from Allard and Donovan; Chris Sapuppo from Tormey and Donovan; and Mark Berberian on an unassisted backhander. James Berberian and Chris Hansberry played a strong game in goal. Kyle McCabe made his return to the lineup after recovering from a broken arm suffered in an off-ice accident. Pat Breen continues to put the hip back into the ever efficient hip check.

Andover 9 - Haverhill 2

Backboned by Chris Hansberry and James Berberian in the nets, the Bantams scored at will. Steve Donovan's hat trick led the way. Defenseman Tom Tormey had 2 goals, Chris McAnally, James O'Brien, Matt Young and Chris Sapuppo had 1. Derek Cianci and James Berberian had 2 assists each, and Lou LoPresti, Peter Trede, Brian Costello, Sapuppo, Donovan and Tormey each had one. Joe Lyons supplied excellent defense.

Andover 9 - Wilmington 3

After spotting Wilmington a one-goal lead early in the first period, the Bantams roared back with nine straight goals. For the second game in a row, Chris McAnally, on a nice pass from Derek Cianci, opened the floodgates. This time Glenn Allard scored the hat trick followed by Donovan with 2, and Matt Young, Derek Cianci, Mark Berberian 1. James O'Brien led with 3 assists, Chris Sapuppo had 2, and Trede, Berberian, LoPresti, Allard, Young and Tormey had 1. Great goaltending by James Berberian and Chris Hansberry and strong defense by Joe Lyons and Pat Breen kept Wilmington in check.

Andover 3 - Brunswick 2

The Bantams had split a pair of games in Brunswick early in December, winning 7-3 and losing 5-3. Brunswick didn't stand a chance this time as the line of Brian Costello, Matt Young and Mark Berberian scored in each period. For the third time in as many games the Bantams scored the hat trick. This time Costello couldn't miss. He simply set up shop in front of the Brunswick net. Young, with three assists, and Berberian, with two assists, delivered the puck and the Bantams took home a victory. Hansberry and Berberian each gave up one goal and defensemen Sapuppo, Trede, Tormey and Lyons were there when it counted.

Andover 4 - Everett 0

Hansberry and James Berberian were both grumpy and stingy at 7 a.m. on this Sunday as they combined to shut out Everett. The line of Costello, Young and Berberian continued on its torrid pace. Costello from Berberian, Young from Costello and Costello from Young and Pat Breen let up long enough for Lou LoPresti to finish off the scoring on accurate passes from Derek Cianci and Kyle McCabe.

Andover 3 - Brunswick 2

Following the "Early Bird Special," the Bantams hurried back to P.A. to continue their series with Brunswick. In the second period the Bantams went to work. Costello opened the scoring on a pass from Matt Young who then served another pass to Mark Berberian who very neatly flipped a backhander past the downed goalie. Chris Sapuppo scored the winning goal by racing down the left lane, firing a shot off the goalies' right pad and scoring on the rebound before the goalie could recover. Brunswick scored their second goal with three minutes remaining in the game. Only excellent defensive work by Lyons, Tormey, Trede and Sapuppo kept them off the board. Both low scoring games can be attributed to superb goaltending by Hansberry and Berberian and by Brunswick goalie Dale Drehabl.

This Saturday the Bantams begin their annual trip to Canada with games in Toronto and Oshawa. Clinton, N.Y., has been added to the trip and games will be played at Hamilton College on Saturday night and Sunday morning.

The players will dedicate this trip to the memory of Robert "Bob" Vogt, a major benefactor of not only the Bantam hockey team, but of all Andover athletes.

Andover 5 - Danvers 3

Andover's Squirt A's rebounded from their sixth loss of the season (6-3) to Manchester, N.H., with a solid win over Danvers in a Danvers Twin Rinks League game. Andover is now 17-0-0 in the Danvers League.

Danvers opened the scoring on a screen shot when the game was only 1.11 old. Andover responded quickly though, scoring three times before the first period ended. Sean Darwin scored Andover's first goal in a backhander off a good pass out of the corner by Michael DiStefano. Three minutes later DiStefano scored an unassisted goal to give Andover a 2-1 lead. John Melillo made it 3-1 on another nice unassisted effort just before the period ended.

The two teams traded goals in the second period with Brian Lane scoring Andover's goal after taking a nice lead pass from goalie Brian Novelline who earned an assist on the play. The period was marked by excellent defensive play by Andover as Jonathan Shine, Todd Allard and Peter Arthur combined to shut down Danvers' highest scoring line completely. Their hard work was aided by Colin Nix and Chris Pothiers fine fore and back-checking.

After Danvers closed the gap to 4-3 early in the third period, Andover began to dominate play. Darwin's second goal, set up by DiStefano's good lead pass fnally put the game away for Andover's 37th win of the year.

Andover 7 - Brunswick 2

Andover blew away the visiting Brunswick, Maine, Squirts on Saturday, Feb. 11, by 7-2. Brian Lane led the scoring with three goals and two assists. Kevin Smith, Sean Darwin, Jay Coburn and Chris Pothier were other scorers. Darwin also had two assists, while Michael DiStefano, Steven Neal and Colin Nix earned single assists. Todd Allard, Peter Arthur and Jonathan Shine all turned in very solid efforts, keeping the puck in the zone consistently and sweeping the area in front of their goaltenders each time Brunswick had a shot on net. Goalies Brian Novelline and Kevin Lane had good games, each stopping a breakaway

Andover 6 - Danvers 1

Andover defeated Danvers for the second time in three days and the third time this season on Saturday, Feb. 11, in Wilmington League play. This contest was somewhat easier for Andover as they assumed a 4-0 lead before Danvers scored its only goal of the game.

Jonathan Shine scored first at the 7:05 mark of the first period when his wrist shot from the point deflected in off a Danvers defenseman. Just before the end of the period. Colin Nix made it 2-0 with a good follow up off a Brian Lane-rush. The goal capped an excellent offensive flurry which involved Colin and linemates John Melillo and Chris Pothier.

Andover's first line generated two goals in the middle period. Kevin Smith, Michael DiStefano and Sean Darwin kept pressure on Danvers on each of their shifts. DiStefano and Darwin each scored a goal and earned and assist to give Andover a 4-0 lead entering the final period.

Danvers finally broke through Andover's excellent defense for its only score five minutes into the third period, spoiling Brian Novelline's bid for a shutout. Andover then scored twice to wrap things up; Lane on a breakaway and Nix on a rebound. Defensemen Todd Allard and Peter Arthur deserve special nods for their excellent play as they again backboned Andover's successful effort at containing Danvers' powerful offense.

Andover 4 - Brunswick, Maine 0

The Squirt A's 40th win of the year came at the expense of the visiting Brunswick Squirts on Sunday, Feb. 12. Goalies Kevin Lane and Brian Novelline shared netminding duties and recorded Andover's seventh shutout of the year.

The first period was fairly evenly played with Andover holding a slight territorial edge. Offensive highlights included some excellent passing and playmaking by John Melillo, Chris Pothier and Colin Nix and a good rush and shot off the post by defenseman Peter Arthur.

Andover finally broke through in the second period, scoring four times. Sean Darwin scored the first two goals, both set up by Kevin Smith, Michael DiStefano scored the third goal on a rebound off Jonathan Shine's shot from the right point and Brian Lane's rush gave Andover the fourth goal and his brother, Kevin, an assist from his goalie's position.

The third period, although scoreless, belonged to Andover. Steven Neal and Jay Coburn had several chances turned away. Brunswick's only chances were handled well by Andover's defensemen, most notably Todd Allard who again turned in an excellent effort.

Andover 6 - Stoneham 0

The Andover Squirt B team continued its winning streak by posting a 6-0 victory over Stoneham.

After a period and a half of scoreless hockey, Andover's balanced attack started to roll. Joey Ligouri's goal (assist Dane Trede) at the six-minute mark was all that Andover would need to put Stoneham away.

However, with just one minute left in the period, Paul Allard's unassisted tally put Andover up by 2. Just 30 seconds later, Jay Coburn (assists Allard, Norton) made it 3-0.

Andover scored three more times in the final period. Four minutes into the third period John Constantine fed Aaron Lang for a four-goal lead. Less than a minute passes before Ryan Moynihan set up Liguori for his second goal of the game and a commanding five-goal lead.

Several fine plays by the defensemen kept Stoneham off the scoresheet until Moynihan's goal (assist Liguori, Neal) made it a 6-0 final Goaltender Kevin Lane, who swapped duties with regular netminder Keith Cutler, made several outstanding saves.

This hard-working Squirt B team has shown great balance lately and is a legitimate threat to finish first in the Danvers League.

Andover 6 - Revere 2

The never-say-die Squirt B team came from behind to beat a tough Revere team by a score of 6-2. After playing a tentative first period, Andover was on the losing end of a 2-0 score.

They finally came alive in the second period when Revere was called for checking. It took Andover's powerplay unit only 14 seconds to get on the board. A great pass by Ryan Moynihan to Steve Neal, who set up in the slot, made the deficit only one. Just before the period ended, the powerplay unit tied it up as Neal (assist Moynihan) scored his second goal.

Andover scored four more times in the final period. The assault started one minute into the period when Kevin Lane set up Jay Coburn for what proved to be the winning goal. Four minutes later Coburn (assist Neal) made it a 4-2 game. Several outstanding saves by goalie Keith Cutler kept Revere off the board until Neal set up linemate Moynihan for the fifth tally.

With a minute to play Coburn broke in alone and finished off the scoring with a hat trick goal.

With only one point separating the top three teams in Division I, this 6-2 victory moved Andover into sole possession of first place.

The word "vogue" comes from the French vouer, meaning "to sail." People in vogue are "sailing" with the tide of popular taste.

West Parish Wins In Struggle

By Rick Harrison

It wasn't easy, but defending champ West Parish remained undefeated (6-0) as it outslugged stubborn Ballardvale United 45-36 in Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division play last week at the Doherty Junior High gymnasium.

That victory enabled West Parish to move a full game ahead of idle Temple Emanuel (5-1) while Ballardvale (4-2) slipped two games ehind.

In other action last week, St. Augustine's exploded for a 71-32 triumph over St. Robert's A and St. Robert's B used some clutch free throw shooting in the fourth quarter to slip past South 29-25.

Eric Shenker of Temple continues to lead the division's individual scoring race with 101 points, but right on his heels are Larry Aiello of West Parish with 100 points and Stu Leinson of Temple with 98.

West Parish, 45-36

West Parish had a struggle on its hands before finally posting its 19th straight victory as Ballardvale led by as many as seven points late in the first half.

West inched ahead 11-10 after one period, but a 10-2 Ballardvale run gave BU a 20-13 lead late in the second quarter. West raced back to tie it 22-22 at halftime, however, and the winners gradually pulled away in the second half behind the sharpshooting of Larry Aiello and Scott Kelly.

Aiello put together the best individual scoring effort of the season to date, pouring through 29 points (17 in the first half). Scott Kelly added 8 points, six of them at critical times during the second half, and Mike DiMeo contributed three free throws. Matt Burke and Craig Costanzo chipped in single baskets, Kurt Nickerson swished a foul shot and Jamie Carew added a strong effort under the boards. Also playing well for West Parish were Davek Curtis, Ted Andry and Matt Fardy.

In addition to his 29 points, Aiello was also a major force under both boards.

Brian Worcester paced the spirited Ballardvale effort with 11 points while Mike Gibbons added 9, Scott Jangro 6 and Andy Cornell 6.

Devon Arsenault completed the BU offense with 4 points while other solid games were added by Andy Meckel, Bartley Parker, Dave Gardner and Mike Mooney.

West Parish finished with a slim 18-17 edge in fieldgoals, but the winners hit 9-of-14 free throws to BU's 2-of-11.

St. Augustine's, 71-32

Improving St. Augustine's placed all 11 of its players into the scoring column, two of them in double figures, enroute to its overwhelming 71-32 triumph against St. Robert's A. They took a 35-18 halftime lead and outpointed SRA 36-14 in the final two quarters.

Steve McGettrick led all scorers with 17 points for the winners, 11 of them in the final period, and Shawn Cummings added 10 points (eight in the first half).

Andy Zompa and Paul Davies chipped in 8 points apiece for St. Augustine's while Chris Boyle, Kyle Murphy and Phil Kendall netted 6 points each. Mike McHale tossed through 4 points, Drew Dunn 3, Steve Surette 2 and Ryan Murphy one free throw.

Bill Dutton spearheaded St. Robert's A with 12 points, Eric Green contributed 6, Bruce Taylor 4, Brad Wright 4 and Dave Lewis 4. Bill Martin notched a third period fieldgoal and other strong efforts came from Matt Jareek, Kaios Ryan and Tom Sheehan.

St. Robert's B, 29-25

St. Robert's B squared its overall record at 3-3, moving into the top half of the standings with its tight 29-25 conquest of South Church.

South, which saw its two-game win streak snapped, led 8-7 after one quarter and 12-9 at halftime.

Jim Davis led a SRB comeback in the third period and the rivals headed into the final quarter locked in an 18-18 tie.

St. Robert's B broke the contest open durng a one-minute stretch with less than 2½ minutes to play, converting 5-of-8 free throws for a 29-20 advantage.

The last five points of the game beloned to South players Jamie Clark and Rob Hendry, but the last-minute rally fell short.

Twin brothers, Gary and Cliff Marotta, shared game-high scoring honors for St. Robert's B with 10 points apiece, and as usual, they pounded the boards on both ends of the floor.

Jim Davis chipped in 5 points for the victors while Scott Friese and Steve DeVoir swished a pair of free throws apiece.

Mike French, Matt Moynihan, Mike Cincotta, Mark O'Sullivan, John Davis and Greg DeVoir were other SRB standouts.

Jamie Clark led the balanced South attack with 8 points, Scott Brink and Rob hendry fired through 5 each, Greg Widmyer 4, Becky Ellis 2 and John Daly a free throw.

Intermediate Playoffs Begin

By Kim Kupa

The first week of Girls' Intermediate Church League Basketball playoffs at the West Elementary School gym produced surprising results. St. Augustne's A, previously undefeated, was toppled by St. Robert's B in a slim 11-10 win, Ballardvale United slipped by St. Robert's C 21-19, St. Augustine's C trimmed St. Augustine's B 16-14 and St. Robert's A downed Christ Church 24-7.

Last week's results left St. Augustine's A and Ballardvale United tied for first place in the championship, St. Robert's B and St. Robert's C tied for second, St. Robert's A and St. Augustine's C battling for third with St. Augustine's B and Christ Church holding down the last two positions.

St. Robert's A, 24-7

St. Robert's A captured the lead early in the game securing 10 unanswered first-quarter points. Ten more points were scored in the two middle periods, creating a commanding 20-5 lead. Julie Grzybinski and Dawn Bernard each pocketed a bucket in the fourth quarter to seal the win.

The balanced attack was led by Bernard who scored 8 point, six netted in the opening period. Kara Slavin and Katie O'Sullivan poured in three hoops apiece and Monica Davis and Julie Grzybinski pocketed a basket each.

Christene Spignesi and Kristene O'Sullivan contributed solid defensive efforts.

Christ Church's counterattack was directed by Leslie Wilkinson, reeling off a basket and a foul shot for three points, Lisa Allen and Liz Hanson chipped in a basket each to complete the offense.

The valient defensive efforts of Meg Hoyt, Heather Reghitto, Regan Jones and Beth Robinson weren't enough to squelch the powerful offensive forces of St. Robert's.

St. Augustine's C, 16-14

In the last match between St. Augustine's C and St. Augustine's B, the latter was victorious 9-6. This time the hot shooting of St. Augustine's C players Kelley Hajj and Maureen Morrow propelled them to a 16-14 win. St. Augustine's C controlled the boards rom the first quarter with a 2-point advantage that jumped to a six-point advantage at the half. By the end of the third quarter St. Augustine's

B managed to cut the deficit to four points from buckets by Maura Everett and Elizabeth Davies.

Hajj tied Everett for game-high honors with 8 points, Maureen Morrow had 6 and Jennifer Scarpone hit a bucket in the first quarter. Zahia Kattar, Amy Brocklesby and Yesmeen Kattar combined talents to give the offense extra room.

Everett led St. Augustine's B with 8 points, Erin McCloskey notched two baskets while Elizabeth Davies got a bucket in the third quarter. Playing well were Katie wise, Mary Ellen Lopez and Bridget Murphy.

Ballardvale United 21-19

Ballardvale United trimmed St. Robert's C 21-20 in their first game and last week won by almost as slight a margin. St. Robert's held the lead until the final quarter when Ballardvale erupted with 8 points. Ballardvale was behind 11-4 at the end of the first quarter and failed to decrease St. Robert's advantage by the half when the score stood at 15-8.

The sharp shooting of Jodi Jangro and Nicole Ricci led Ballardvale to a 19-19 tie in the fourth quarter. With five seconds left on the clock, Ballardvale inched ahead with a basket from Ricci.

Jangro snagged the game-high marksman title with 9 points, Ricci had 6, Lisa Campbell converted a pair of free throws and Meredythe Fisk and Kim Lowe each delivered a bucket. Lisa Hayes and Erin Lynch added fine floor games.

St. Robert's C scoring was led by Elizabeth Wrobel and Joanne McNamara, Wrobel pumping through 8 and McNamara sinking 7. The remaining points were added by Shelia Camillus and Jacqueline Kupa, each with a basket. Outstanding defense was played by Kimberly Davis, Julie Newman, Diane Castignoli, Gretchen Weitz, Stephanie Kupa and Grace Perry.

St. Robert's B, 11-10

St. Robert's B accomplished the seemingly impossible, bolting to a come-from-behind win in the fourth quarter over previously undefeated St. Augustine's A.

Although they held a 10-2 advantage at the half, the hustling efforts of St. Robert's B kept them pointless in the second half. Susan Boush, leader of the individual scoring race, powered the late surge of St. Robert's, netting all of her seven points in the second half with three in the final quarter to put the game away. Shaleen Cassily reeled off a bucket in the second quarter and Lynn Baker added one in the final stanza.

St. Robert's defense, was made up of Kim Hein, Tara Cocozza, Nicole Kelley, Michelle DiStefano, Natalie Dowell and Nina Sheel.

Without the scoring power of April Williams, St. Augustine's A held the game to a one-point loss. The bulk of the counterattack was handled by Andie Harris, two baskets.

St. Robert's Survives Stiff Test

By Rick Harrison

Undefeated St. Robert's B survived its stiffest test of the season last week, pulling out a hard-fought 23-19 victory as West Parish used an intelligent slow-down game to stymie and almost upset the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division frontrunners in action at the West Elementary School gym.

SRB improved to 7-0 with the triumph, remaining one game ahead of St. Augustine's A (6-1) in their torrid two-way battle for division supremacy.

St. Augustine's A, the only team with a mathematical chance to catch St. Robert's B at this stage, kept pace with a 41-24 triumph over South A. St. Robert's C won its intra-church struggle with St. Robert's A 25-10 to round out the three-game card.

Paul DeMarco of SRB took over sole possession of first place in the divisin scoring race with 85 points, while John Russell of St. Augustine's A has 82.

St. Robert's B, 23-19

The West Parish strategy came close to working as their deliberate and disciplined play gave the taller St. Robert's B squad fits for much of the night.

In the end, however, a 7-2 third-period run and the clutch shooting of Paul DeMarco enabled SRB to remain unbeaten.

West Parish was also burdened by fouls as key player Pat Kelley had four personals entering the fourth quarter and eventually fouled out. John Glynn also fouled out with just over one minute to play.

DeMarco led all marksmen with 15 points in the contest which was tied 8-8 at halftime.

Jeff Brodie added 4 points for SRB, Jerome Guerard 2 and single free throws were pocketed by James Spinelli and Mike Faraci.

Spinelli, a year-long key to the first place team's success, also backboned the tough St. Robert's B defense.

Mike Smith and James Murphy were other standouts for SRB.

Stefan Kelly, who produced the shot of the year in the final quarter, paced West Parish with 8 points, Kelley added 6, Chris Lane had three fourth-period free throws and Glynn netted a third-stanza basket.

Also playing well for West Parish were Dave Carnes, Keith Abernathy and Chris Gray.

Kelly's miraculous basket came when he found himself in heavy traffic with no one to pass to. Standing with his back to the basket approximately five feet away, Kelly tossed the all over his head without looking and collected two points with a perfect swish.

St. Robert's C, 25-10

First-quarter baskets by Dave Carriere and Jeff Landry enabled St. Robert's C to inch ahead and they never relinquished that lead while pulling away slowly over the next two periods.

SRC them made it look easier than it was with an 11-4 run in the fourth quarter.

Patrick Hayes led eight players in the scoring column for balanced St. Robert's C, flipping through 5 points, while Dan Fay, George Willard and Carriere chipped in 4 points apiece, Matt Perry netted 3 points, Mike Hein 2, Landry 2 and Jason Blandini a free throw.

Rayn Beal and John Mattola paced the answering fire with 4 points each for St. Robert's A, and Eric Hammond contributed a basket. Staunch defensive efforts came from Todd Musterait, Brett Hammond, Paul Salafia and Mike Talty.

St. Augustine's A, 41-24

All 10 St. Augustine's A players had a hand in the offense as the victors raced to a 10-0 lead and extended the margin to 19-6 by halftime.

If these features seem a bit generous to you for a $12,980* German sports sedan, you're right.

When a car comes with no less than 38 standard features and is priced under $13,000, you have to call it a great value.

So, it should come as no surprise that the Audi 4000S is the best selling German sports sedan in Germany you can buy in America.

Of course there are other reasons why Germans are driven to buy the 4000S. Germans demand that a sports sedan accelerate with the spirit of a racing car.

They insist that a sports sedan have a suspension that tames even the toughest roads.

And they're absolutely adamant that a sports sedan cruise comfortably at over 100 miles per hour on the Autobahn.

Warriors Take Class B Title

By Dan Grams

The Andover High School boys track team raced to the Class B state championship following another impressive performance at Harvard.

The running Warriors broke four school records, totaling 56 points, to easily outdistance its closest competitor, Falmouth (21.5).

Larry Cuddy, Rick Dow, Ian Dowe and the mile relay team of Zack Apgar, Mark Grams, Peter Comeau and Cuddy were outstanding turning in record-setting performances.

Dowe (shotput) and Comeau (300) were first-place finishers, Cuddy (600) and Dow (2 mile) placed second, Keith Driscol (hurdles) and Apgar (50 dash) grabbed fifth place Dowe also picked up a third in the 50 dash to round out the scoring.

The Class B title marked the second time in which the Golden Warriors have walked off with the championship in major meets.

The Golden Warriors continued their winning ways in the Merrimack Valley, racing to a lopsided 66-24 victory over Billerica High School. The victory lifts the Andover record to 7-0

Andover was in total control of the meet winning 8 of 10 places. The Golden Warriors took advantage of the underdog Indians, placing many of their runners in different events other than their own.

Larry Cuddy (300), Bob Salisbury (600), Tony Holbrook (2 mile) and Rick Dow (1000) all switched from their regular races, but still managed to cross the tape first. Ian Dowe (shot put), Keith Driscol (hurdles) and Zack Apgar (50 dash) also placed first.

John Duffy (mile), Mark Grams (600), Bobby Stabile (hurdles and shotput), Dave Casanave (300), Jon Yeszerski (1000), Dowe (50 dash) and Andy Thompson and Driscol (hurdles) captured second spots.

Peter Barby (hurdles) and Richard Burke (mile) grabbed third places, while a make-shift relay squad of Driscol, Stabile, McAllister and Casanave won the mile relay with a time of 3:57.3 to finish the scoring.

The Golden Warriors will be in action this week in dual meet competition against Methuen, then travel to Beverly Saturday for the Northern Area Meet as the indoor track season begins to wind down.

If Andover is able to get past Methuen, they will have a perfect dual meet record for the indoor track season and the Merrimack Valley championship.

The first woman to serve as a state senator was Martha Hughes Cannon, elected in Utah in 1896.

EXTRAORDINARY PERFORMANCE FOR THE ORDINARY BUDGET.

Do you ever wonder why so many people who seem to understand and appreciate high-performance cars wind up buying ordinary, undistinguished automobiles?

It might be easier to understand if you knew that the average price of a new car today is around $11,000. And if that's the price of an average new car, what does it cost to own an outstanding new car?

For example, take the Saab 900, one of Europe's most widely praised sports sedans. Here's a car that's justly famous for performance and handling; a car that couples a powerful two-liter, fuel-injected engine to one of the world's most fully developed front-wheel drive systems. It's a car that is far above average in comfort, strength and luggage capacity.

What does it cost to own an extraordinary car like this? About the same as it costs to own a just-average car.

Earnings Increase At Standex

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) announced that earnings in the second fiscal quarter and six-month periods increased 52 percent from a year ago. Daniel E. Hogan, chairman and chief executive officer of the diversified company, stated that "the pace of business is accelerating" and added that "it looks like fiscal 1984 will be an excellent year for Standex."

In the second fiscal quarter ended December 31, 1983, net income rose 49 percent to $4.8 million, or 35¢ a share, up from $3.2 million, or 23¢ a share, in the same period last year. Sales for the quarter amounted to $97.1 million, up for last year's $92.1 million. Earnings per share in the latest quarter were based on 13.8 million shares outstanding. (In November 1983 Standex had a two-for-one split of its common stock.)

In the six-month period ended December 31, 1983, net income rose 53 percent to $9.2 million dollars, or 67¢ a share, up from $6 million, or 44¢ a share, in the same period of last year. Sales for the half year amounted to $184.8 million, as compared with last year's $176.8 million.

Hogan stated that last year's six-month results included $9.4 million of sales from Dresher Inc., a former division which was spun off to Standex stockholders as of January 3, 1983. "The absence of Dresher's sales tends to obscure Standex's real growth during this period," Hogan added.

Reviewing "the very satisfactory results" of the past quarter and six-month periods, Hogan stated that Standex is "very pleased" with the increasing pace of incoming orders and the substantial gains in sales and earnings being realized at virtually every major area of Standex's business. In addition, he added, "the company is realizing increasingly higher levels of productivity. These factors, plus declining interest costs, combine to give us confidence that Standex is back on its historic growth track."

Standex recently announced that it expects to file with the S.E.C. sometime in February a Secondary Offering of approximately 1.5 million shares of Standex common stock. Hogan stated that the shares would be offered by selling stockholders exclusively, that neither Standex International nor any of its headquarters senior corporate management plan to participate in the offering and the offering "would not dilute the earnings of Standex International." Hogan indicated that more than half the shares would be offered from the estates of Mr. and Mrs. John Bolten, Sr., and that all the costs of the offering would be borne by the selling stockholders.

Hogan said that Standex operations showing "significant gains" over last year included the institutional/food service equipment units, the electronics division, the furniture mail order division, the bindery supply operations and the unit which produces metal ducting. He added that several units, such as the electronics and "texturizing" divisions, are realizing accelerating gains. On the other hand, Hogan said the recent freezing weather conditions in Texas will have "a negative effect" on the earnings of Standex's grapefruit mail order business.

Financially, Hogan stated that Standex is "the strongest ever." As of December 31, its debt-to-capital ratio was about 23 percent, working capital amounted to $6.64 a share and the current ratio was 3:1. Standex has a current book value of $9.98 a share and stockholders equity of $137 million.

Net Income Reported Increased At Bank

Bank of New England Corporation, parent of Bank of New England-Bay State, Lawrence, reported operating results for the fourth quarter and 12 months ended December 31.

Net income for 1983 reached $36.6 million, up 3 percent from 1982's results of $35.7 million. On a per common share basis net income was $7.64 for 1983 versus a 1982 figure of $7.93, a decline of 4 percent. Fully diluted earnings per common share rose 1 percent to $7.45 from the $7.38 earned in 1982.

Net income in the fourth quarter was $8.8 million, up 9 percent from the $8.1 million earned in the third quarter, but down 9 percent from the $9.7 million reported in the last quarter of 1982. Net income per common share in 1983's fourth quarter was also up 9 percent to $1.82 from the $1.67 earned in the third quarter, but down 15 percent compared to the $2.15 in the comparable 1982 period. On a fully diluted basis, net income for the quarter was $1.78 per common share, up 9 percent from the third quarter's $1.63, but down 13 percent compared with fourth quarter 1982 results of $2.04 per common share.

Roderick M. MacDougall, chairman of the Bank of New England Corporation, observed, "The last half of 1983 proved to be a difficult period for the banking industry. The primary factors that contributed to Bank of New England's earnings decline during this period were narrowing lending margins and expense items connected with market and product expansion."

MacDougall further commented that, "It has been management's policy to continue the pursuit of aggressive market share goals despite cyclical margin declines." The corporation's loan and lease portfolio grew 24 percent in 1983 to a total of $3.7 billion at year-end 1983. Non-performing loans and leases, which stood at 1.85 percent of total loans and leases at year-end 1982, declined to 1.72 at the close of 1983

Town Budget Examination Shows Definite 'Do Without' Appetite

The Police Department will get by without added manpower, Community Services will give up some intern hours, and Memorial Hall Library will do without $9,000 worth of new books, under the town manager's recommended budget for fiscal 1985.

Police, DCS and the library were among the accounts the Board of Selectman reviewed in their new municipal offices Monday night, as they continue to hear departmental explanations for each account in the total town operating budget proposed at $11 million.

Looking at the police budget, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said, "We would like to add some people, but we did not — that's the big thing." The department will hire a meter maid at $12,100, however, which will free an officer from daily parking patrol duties.

But the rest of the $140,000 increase in the police salary account is due to salary increases, and not added personnel, he explained. (The salary account is $1.08 million, compared to the current $961,908 of fiscal '84.) The total police department budget is recommended at $2.06 million.

Chief James Johnson added that his department is "slowly getting eaten away in operational costs." Example: He would like to buy at least two new radar units for patrol cars, at $1,500 each; the department is now down to two. He noted that those units benefit the town by cutting down speeding (and bringing in revenue from fines).

The selectmen indicated that they will consider returning some radar units to the budget during a future meeting.

Moving to Community Services, the manager noted that director Joan Pearson's department was left "more intact than any of the other departments" after hecut "only" $13,000 from Pearson's total requests for next year. The department is budgeted at $336,129.

One of those cuts was $4,000 from the salary account, which would have covered part of an intern's salary; those intern hours will be missed, Pearson said, because they could help relieve her overburdened staff. (The director said her department really needs another program coordinator, which she did not request.)

DCS will also be hunting for a refrigerator/freezer to use at the Pomp's Pond concession stand next summer: That item is not included in the budget. Pearson said she has hopes of turning up a fridge before swimming weather hits.

And in a brief discussion of his Memorial Hall Library budget recommendations, which total $805,263, Mahony noted that he had cut $9,000 from the $144,270 requested for new books. The manager said he had made that cut "reluctantly," but added, "I don't think we're hurting (the library) too badly."

He pointed out that construction will be underway at the library next year, reducing shelf space and turnover of books. And he noted that improved security at the library has reduced the loss of books.

Still, the selectmen indicated they may take a closer look at that item later: Donn Byrne said he was "disappointed" to see the book budget reduced, because the library is "one of our better resources."

Federal Fund Loss Results In Deficit

As the School Committee began reviewing their $14.7 million budget this week, they learned that they will almost certainly be faced with a $110,000 deficit — the result of lost federal funding.

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert told the board that $110,000 in grant money to help support the town's Chapter 766 special education programs may be cut by the federal government next year

Federal funding remains a "big question mark" at this time, he said, but prospects are not bright: "We may have to find $110,000 before the budget (planning process) is over," Seifert said.

Both the administrator and committee Chairman Richard Neal emphasized that although the lost federal money has gone toward special education programs in past years, the school department will not make cuts in that program to make up for the loss

"We are not saying that 766 (staff) positions will be the whipping child in Andover," Seifert said. "Those positions are in." Neal agreed that the school department "will not be trading off youngsters or their programs" to make up the deficit.

Instead, cuts will probably be made in administration, supervision, supplies and equipment, the superintendent explained

Only One Ballot Contest

The town ballot is officially complete this week, and it includes a total of only seven candidates — foretelling what could be an all-time low voter turnout next month.

Monday was the deadline for filing nomination papers with the town clerk. He reports that three incumbents are running unopposed: James D. Doherty of 9 Juniper Road, seeking a one-year term as town meeting moderator; Donn B. Byrne of 15 Lovejoy Road, seeking a second three-year term on the Board of Selectmen; and Michael R. Giammusso of 68 Summer St., also seeking a second three-year term, but on the School Committee.

If there is any hope of drawing Andover to the polls on March 26, it lies with the Andover Housing Authority contest. Four candidates are vying for one five-year slot on the AHA: Ronald C. Hajj of 22 Enmore St., Eileen M. Connolly of 111 Chestnut St., Marion V. Smith of 135 Chestnut St., and Thomas P. Walsh, Jr. of 6 Holly Terrace.

The annual town election will be held 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. (note the extra morning hour this year) Monday, March 26, at Andover High School's Dunn Gymnasium.

School Board

plauded the program planning efforts, and "strongly" urged his colleagues to "support this approach." He noted that $46,829 to keep the school system "moving forward" is a small percentage of the total budget.

In another change next year, all program advisors will be returned to full-time administrative duties; some advisors have been spending part of their time teaching classes this year. Seifert said the advisors were in unanimous agreement that teaching hindered their administrative duties.

Next year's athletics account was approved at $218,011 ($133,070 for salaries and $84,941 for expenses), a number that will allow services "similar" to this year's, the superintendent said.

Acting athletics program advisor Richard Bourdelais told the committee that income from athletic user fees is down by more than $800 to date this year, compared to the same period last year. That may be due to a greater number of family fees this year, he said; families pay a lower rate than individual athletes.

Any increase in user fees would probably discourage participation in sports programs, he added.

The figure approved for the textbook account, $80,646, will provide "a very satisfactory condition in each of the subject areas," Seifert said, and should help the schools catch up with textbook purchases that have been deferred in recent years.

Other account totals approved on Tuesday's first pass: school committee, $8,200; legal services, $14,000; superintendent's office, $82,298; assistant superintendent's office, $66,862; personnel, $57,996; business office, $263,749; supervisors, $425,334 (with $411,934 in salaries); principals, $644,158 (with salaries at $603,158); library, $55,000; audio visual, $355,432; and programs with other districts (which places students in other schools when programs are not available in Andover), $383,000.

The schoolmen did not cut anything from the administration's recommendations this week — and added almost $7,000. The increases were $2,700 in the business office salary account, due to a salary increase for Business Manager Francis Paul approved last week; and a $4,278 oversight in the athletics account, where funds for medical expenses were inadvertently excluded.

Gets Grant

Northern Essex Community College has been awarded a $33,984 grant provided by the Lawrence Department of Training and Manpower, under the Job Training Partnership Act, to extend the "Bookkeeping-Accounting Principles with Computer Operations" training program at the college.

The bookkeeping accounting program has as its main objective, the goal of providing skills to do entry level bookkeeping and accounting functions and to operate office computers employing accounting applications.

The grant will allow Northern Essex to train an additional 20 students, who will enter the program March 5, 1984, bringing the total served by this program to 40.

Those wishing to enter this program should contact Janet O'Keeffe, Northern Essex Counselor.

Free Trees

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving three free Blck Walnut trees to new members joining during February.

The free trees are part of the foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America.

Black Walnut trees were chosen because of their value and versatility. They bear, sweet, edible nuts and are used for shade trees, growing up to 80-100 feet. Walnut hardwood is very valuable for making furniture and cabinets.

The trees, two-to-three feet tall, will be sent postage paid with enclosed planting instructions at the right time for planting this spring. The trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free by the foundation.

To become a member of the foundation and receive the free trees, a contribution should be sent to Free Walnut trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410 by February 29.

ON LEAKY FAUCETS

A leaky faucet can cost you money. Dribbling 50 gallons of water or more down the drain a month, this would come to some 600 gallons or more a year. It may be water you are paying to heat (if it's the hot water faucet) in which case it is costing you in two ways.

The problem, often caused by a worn out washer, usually doesn't require a plumber to repair it. You need a box of assorted washers and screws, a roll of masking tape, a phillips screw driver, a flat blade screw driver and a smooth-jawed wrench.

Turn off the water supply, either below the sink or at the main water supply in the basement. Wrap tape around the decorative housing or hexagonal nut below the handle to protect it from marring.

Open the faucet slightly to release pressure on the spindle shaft inside. Unscrew the hexagonal nut and pull out the shaft. Remove the screw at the base of the shaft and remove the washer above it.

Clean the washer housing, replace the washer with a new one and replace the screw with a new one. Reassemble the faucet, turn on the water and you're in business. In many areas, water has become a scarce commodity. Allowing a leak to persist can be extremely wasteful.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Schoolmen Angered By Poore Comments

At least two School Committee members were angered by comments made by a colleague last week following the committee's three-one decision to open the Shawsheen School as an early childhood education center next September.

Committee member Susan Poore, in a newspaper report published last Wednesday, was quoted as saying of the Shawsheen vote, "It was obvious it was a bag job." She charged that some other members of the committee had discussed the issue privately prior to the meeting, according to the published account.

Poore voted against opening the school as an early childhood center after a lengthy discussion before a large audience at the Sanborn School last Tuesday night. The remaining committee members voted in favor of the center; Donald Robb was absent, but Chairman Richard Neal said Robb had indicated to him that he favored the early childhood alternative.

This week, committeeman Robert Smith responded to Poore's comments. Reading from a prepared statement at the Shawsheen Tuesday night, Smith said Poore's comments were "an insult to my integrity and the integrity of this committee." He said that as a committee member, he reaches all his decisions independently of other members.

Chairman Richard Neal, also reading from a prepared statement, said he had found Poore's comments "extremely upsetting" and "an attack on my integrity." He maintained that every committee member is given an opportunity to express their thoughts in "free and open discussion," and as chairman, he found his colleague's suggestion that there had been "collusion" on the Shawsheen vote "personally degrading."

The chairman added that Poore's remarks should have been made publicly, so that committee members could have responded to them before they appeared in print.

Poore was absent from this week's meeting, as was Robb.
